Dr. J. E. Parks asks that The Falcon announce a meeting of the Fayette County Medical Association which will be held at the court house on November 1 at 10 a. m. and he requests all the doctors in the county to be present at the meeting.

A note received by The Falcon this week from W. C. Crawford of Williston advises that Representative Hugh Crawford had passed by the legislature an amendment to the quail law for this county which changed the open season closing date from March 5 to February 1. That is under the law mentioned the open date for shooting quail in this county will be November 22 to February 1, and it gives about ten weeks of shooting. We have not seen a copy of the new acts and did not know of this change.

Word comes from Washington this week to his parents here of the transfer of J. E. Loggins from the Veteran's Bureau (War Risk Insurance Bureau), Washington, D. He has been with this division of the government ever since his discharge from the army service at the close of the war, serving as a Claims Attorney, and his duties remain of the same nature in his new field. He is moving with his family this week to Atlanta to begin his duties there next Monday.

Corn and Hogs

BY T. F. PEK
 Commissioner of Agriculture

Farmers in Tennessee are gathering a normal crop of corn this year, and there has been a considerable carry over of the 1920 crop of corn. The corn crop throughout the country is reported normal, with a considerable carry over from last year. So naturally there is no immediate prospect for a good price for corn.

While that is true, we have an unusual condition regarding the hog market. Normally, the price of corn and hogs fluctuate together. I remember as a boy, when corn sold for 50 cents a bushel, bacon sold for 10 cents a pound. The same relative prices will not prevail during the coming year, because we have a normal crop of corn with considerable carry over and fewer hogs than at any time within my memory. I know of very few sections of the State which have enough hogs to supply the local demand.

For the above reason we may expect the market for hogs to be good. The farmer who will buy brood sows can in a short time grow pigs and within the year produce meat that, from present indications, will sell for a good price. In this way the farmer can realize a better price for his corn than he could hope to secure by selling the corn on the grain market. Raising and feeding hogs gives the farmer a quicker turnover for his crop than in any other way.

Now that hogs can be immunized from cholera and "hogflu," there is not the danger of loss there was before preventive serums were perfected.

With the present prices for feeders, steers and the low prices for hay and roughage, it would be well for farmers to do some thinking and give some study to market conditions before rushing their feeder cattle on the market. Well informed cattle men agree that by next spring the market will justify carrying over cattle, and by feeding on the farm, much fertilizing material could be retained. If we expect to make money in livestock, we cannot get out of the game when prices slump and get back in it when prices are at their best. We must get good foundation stock, give them good feed and attention, accept the lean years when they come; and be ready when the market is good to have something to market.

Prices for farm products are going to be better because the supplies accumulated during the war for the European market, and did not reach that market, because of the sudden ending of the war, have by now been disposed of. The dumping of the war surplus on the home market, and the slowing up of production because of the low prices caused thereby, has resulted in the depletion of the surplus. Another fact that will result in increased prices for farm products is that a smaller percentage of our population than ever before is now engaged in the production of food crops.

I repeat that the present time and conditions are opportune for the wide awake farmer to fortify himself for maximum production by securing, at present favorable prices, foundation stock for the future, and at the same time restore to the soil the fertility taken from it in the production of crops to meet the demands of war times. By the time the farmers will be ready with their products, we have every reason to expect satisfactory prices.

I also wish to repeat that we are not wanting in opportunities for success in our work as farmers. The question is, will we have the capacity to recognize and profit by the splendid opportunities that will be open to us?

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Somerville Homes

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Bring you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

'Twould save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor. Read what a Somerville citizen says: Mrs. Chas. Starks, says: "Some years ago I had a very severe attack of kidney complaint. My back nearly killed me; it ached night and day and such a thing as doing my house work was out of the question. I had sick headaches, and would have to go and lie down when these attacks came on. Flashes of light would appear before my eyes, too. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I did. Doan's completely cured me and I have never had any return symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Starks had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfgs. Adv.

Chattanooga, Tenn. — "After four years of suffering and misery untold, from a trouble that seemed to baffle the doctors, I became despondent, when somehow I came into possession of Dr. Pierce's book, 'The Medical Adviser.' I only weighed 125 lbs. when I commenced the treatment and today I weigh 140 lbs., and am practically well. I can't give too much praise to Dr. Pierce's God-given remedies."—John A.
